About Me

Junior Web Developer with over a year of experience in web application development, specializing in core technologies such as HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I have completed web development courses and worked on diverse projects that have strengthened my technical skills. I have experience with modern frameworks such as React and Tailwind CSS and am committed to writing clean and, where possible, optimized code. I approach challenges posed by new technologies and technical requirements with enthusiasm, viewing them as opportunities for learning and professional growth.

Experience

2023 – Now

Web developer freelancer
