Education

Mar 2023- Aug 2023
IT School
Web Development

During this course, I deepened my knowledge of HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, Bootstrap, and Git. The 100 hours of the course helped me gain a better understanding of these technologies through various individual and team projects. Individual study exceeded 100 hours, during which I built a portfolio of projects using various other technologies as well.

Nov 2022 - Jan 2023
Udemy
The Complete 2023 Web Development Bootcamp

This course represents my first significant interaction with this field. In addition to the aforementioned front-end technologies, within this course, I also learned and worked with: jQuery, EJS, Node.js, Express, MongoDB, and Passport. The 65 hours of the course, and undoubtedly many more through individual study, have helped me to create my first web application.

My project

Photographer Portfolio   → balanandrei.ro

My first successfully delivered web application to a client is a photography portfolio. Indexing pages in the Google search engine, using your own backend, and managing the database provide the following benefits to the client: the ability to search the website by keywords and to connect to, upload, and delete content at will.
